[1] URGENCY IN SPIRIT by Larry Taylor I am sending out this Newsletter with a real URGENT sense in the Spirit that time is short until many of those things we take for granted in our daily life will no longer be as available as we've known. Shortages will occur and famine will not be some fictional novel about America. Many people are blind and cannot see the transformation of America that has happened in such a short time.

It is ironic to see the articles of news and comments from all over the world that have warned us about the direction America has taken. I pray and seek the Lord about things to come. I wait and listen and cry, but I am not able to speak "smooth" things in our future, except that Jesus is coming...! That is the only thing I can be comforted with as I just weep as I feel like Jeremiah must have felt!

[2] NOTE FROM DAVID WILKERSON - November, 2007 Issue The past few months, we have been receiving an increasing number of letters and writings from our readers about dreams and visions concerning judgments on America. Some of these we discount immediately because they are unscriptural and obviously disoriented ramblings. But what we are now receiving cannot be discounted.

It appears the Holy Spirit is speaking to many godly people about impending disaster on our land. They all see and hear the same message: that something is coming soon that will forever change the way we live. These readers are not alarmists; they are intelligent, praying people who love America but have been shaken by what they have envisioned. None of them claim to be prophets, but are simply housewives, laymen, pastors of the small churches - unknown, ordinary people upon whom the Holy Spirit is moving in a prophetic way. [3] NOTE FROM LARRY TAYLOR by Larry Taylor For the Earth Dwellers - Watching the sky: 'What we call Comet Holmes/17P is certainly an enigmatic object, Comet Tuttle is starting to brighten, and I've found the confirmation on the NEW Comet Boattini, recently spotted coming by an Italian astronomer. What all this means is certainly a good question? However, Comets have always been Harbingers of WARNING and spoken of by the ancients as always bringing a message and CHANGE..!

We have Comet Holmes/17P now in the sky, Comet Tuttle being seen in the sky about January 2, 2008 and the NEW Comet Boattini perihelion about June, 2008. Some are saying this is almost like a Comet Swarm? There's certainly a lot of thoughts on the internet but I'm watching a little longer to see where this is all headed? If you missed James McCanney's 2-Hour Broadcast on Comet Holmes, then you missed lot's of information on how anomalous this Comet/Planet/Anomaly really is that brightened by 400,000 times, then 1 Million times, then 2 Million times...! Comet who has a coma that is larger than our Solar System's own Sun. And a comet which, when viewed by the Hubble Telescope was seen with either a companion or other objects within the coma and tail? Remember the Hale-Bopp Anomaly? In Comet Holmes we see a GOLDEN core, a GREEN coma, and a BLUE tail. And there seems to be much information coming in about Winds/Storms/Quakes this December 1 thru December 25+ and maybe a real serious EARTHQUAKE window too! More later....WriteLarryTaylor@webtv.net

[4] POLE SHIFT OR NATURAL PHENOMENON? (excerpt-CBC News) Some Inuit say they hope scientists coming to Nunavut for research as part of the International Polar Year can help shed light on changes they're seeing in the Sun - particularly, how it's been showing up more often in the usually 'always-dark' winters. For the past several years, residents in the High Arctic have observed the winter 'dark-season' is ending earlier than usual, with the Sun coming up at a different place than what people are used to seeing. Reports with the dark season not the real dark season people used to know and notices of more daylight earlier. www.cbc.ca

[5] SEEING OUR PAST AGES DREAM by Chuck Hutcheson In August, 2007 had a dream. In the dream I was looking up at the moon in the sky, and suddenly another smaller moon started revealing itself just to the top right of our moon, as if coming out from behind a veil. Just as this was happening, three more small moons of the same size followed suit.

This dream was very real to me. The only thing I can discern that this dream might mean is in regards to old indian stories of the previous worlds past. If I recall correctly, according to Indian Lore, we are in the "fifth age", soon to enter into the "sixth age" (the 1,000 year period spoken of in Revelation?), and if so, this might explain the dream of our present moon, and then the four other moons making themselves known.

I might presume that this dream is God letting me know that He is about to reveal some truth about possible ages past? There is obviously a lot of room for speculation, but if I were to do so, this is my interpretation of the dream. Maybe those of us who are searchers are about to discover some truth - about the past and ages past. Chuck Hutcheson/Georgia

[6] EARTH CHANGES AND CRAFT PROPULSION by Stan Deyo [CoastToCoastAM Recap] Research physicist and author, Stan Deyo, discussed Earth Changes and Climate Concerns, as well as new developments in aerospace propulsion for the flying saucer he is building. He sees 'major' earth changes beginning NOW and continuing for the next decade, brought about by the oceans heating up in concert with sunspot activity.

Hopi prophecy says we should prepare for major floods, and volcanic eruptions along the west coast. They also speak of a coming two-week or so interval where people should hide in caves to escape intense Sun exposure and heat. Temperatures could rise as high as 130F Degrees, and there'll be huge winds and fires, Deyo recounted.

The saucer-shaped craft he's developing will be able to fly both in the air and underwater, Deyo said. Powered by a new kind of propulsion that
